Disruptions by Non-School Personnel

School employees will notify the building principal or their designee in the event of school disruptions.

The principal will:

- Notify the district administrator or their designee of the situation.
- Meet with the individual or group in an attempt to resolve the situation.
- Call civil authorities if it is apparent to the professional in charge that additional help is needed. Civil authorities, when alerted, should stand by ready to help but will not move in for direct action until requested to do so by the district administrator or, in their absence, the administrator in charge.

Relations with News Media During School Disruptions

All news media should be referred to the district administrator or their designee.
